Reading seniors invited to attend annual Thanksgiving Dinner

BOSTON – Reading seniors are invited to attend the annual Thanksgiving Dinner at the Hillview Country Club in North Reading on Saturday, November 19. Doors will open at 12:15 p.m. and dinner will be served at 1 p.m.

Hosted by Representative and Mrs. Bradley H. Jones, Jr. and Representative and Mrs. Jim Dwyer, the dinner will feature musical entertainment provided by Sergeant Dan Clark, the famous "singing trooper."

The Reading Thanksgiving Dinner has been held annually since 2008. Every year, hundreds of local residents gather to enjoy a traditional turkey dinner with all the fixings.

"We are truly grateful to the many local businesses and individuals who have partnered with us to help make this event such a great success," said Representative Jones. "We invite Reading's seniors to join us at the Hillview as we celebrate the start of the holiday season."

"My wife Mimi and I are pleased to join our good friends Linda and Brad Jones to honor our seniors and celebrate the Thanksgiving holiday," said Representative Dwyer. "We are so fortunate to have so many generous partners including businesses, community leaders, and caring individuals who have made this a great annual event that I've had such great pride in taking part in these past 8 years."

The dinner is free and open to all Reading residents over the age of 60. However, reservations are required and will be taken on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Those attending this year's dinner are asked to bring a non-perishable food item for donation to the Reading Food Pantry.

For reservations or to arrange transportation, please call the Reading Senior Center at 781-942-6794 no later than Wednesday, November 9.
